Silver Group Spurts When Senator Harrison Comes Out Favoring Inflation

GOLD ISSUES STRONG

U. S. Smelting Makes High For Years When It Advances Eight Points

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Silver stocks featured the late trading on the stock exchange today while the remainder of the list was steady and generally higher after losing part of an early advance.

The silver group crowded the gold stocks out as the market sensations when Senator Harrison of Mississippi stated renunciation of silver would be beneficial. Harrison stated inflation measures were imperative at this time and added congress would make them mandatory if the president did not use his inflationary powers.

In addition to the Harrison statement the silver issues were aided by a strong market for silver futures, and the spot price of silver rose 3-4 cents to 38 1-4 cents an ounce.

The smelting company shares were buoyant under the leadership of U. S. Smelting which made a new high for the year at 95 up 8. American Smelting made a new top for the year at 43 up 3-8. Copper mining issues were higher, aided by a decline of 47,000,000 pounds in copper stocks during August.

Gold miners were the leaders in the early trading on a sharp rise in the price of gold in London. In the latter market gold was at an American equivalent of $29.91 per fine ounce and the treasury department fixed the price at $29.77, the highest since the department has been making a price.

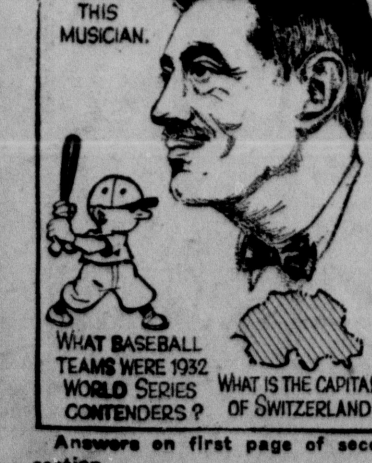

Homestake mining soared to a record high at 320, up 19 7-8 points and other issues of the gold mining group were proportionately higher.

National Distillers touched a high for the day of 111 1-4 up 7 points. U. S. Industrial Alcohol 80 1-4 up 5 1-2; and American Superior Judge Joseph P. Sproul instructed the jurors that if they should find Read no longer was in love with his wife when he met Miss Windsor two years ago on an east bound transcontinental train, they must return a verdict in favor of the actress.

Again, the court added, if the jury should reach the conclusion that Miss Windsor had no knowledge except that Read and his wife were permanently estranged, the decision must also then be in Miss Windsor's favor.

DEFENSE ARGUMENTS RESUMED IN LAMSON'S MURDER TRIAL

HIRAM JOHNSON URGED TO BOLT PARTY IN RACE

Invited To Run For Re-Election As Democratic Senatorial Candidate

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 14.—Senator Hiram Johnson was cordial but cautious today in answering an invitation to bolt the Republican party and run for re-election as the Democratic senatorial candidate in California next year.

The United Press learned indisputably that a prominent northern California Democrat acted with full knowledge of other Democratic leaders including William Gibbs McAdoo in inviting the Progressive Republican firebrand to become a Democrat.

The letter in tactful but firm words declared that if Johnson refused the invitation, the Democratic party would be compelled to run its own candidate.

It had been understood heretofore that Democrats would not sponsor a candidate in the 1934 primaries, in order to leave Johnson unopposed in the general election.

Johnson's non-committal reply indicated he had given "much thought" to the campaign.

The Democratic leader who wrote the senator pointed out the embarrassing position Johnson would face if nominated as a Republican or Progressive.

Johnson's endorsement of President Roosevelt before election made him a Roosevelt man. He would be restrained from campaigning in an over-vigorous fashion against a candidate Mr. Roosevelt supported.

Senator Johnson had made few plans as yet for the campaign, resting on his conviction that President Roosevelt would ensure Democratic support if he ran as a Republican or Progressive.

The letter to Johnson said it

BURMAH WHITE TO PLEAD IN MORNING

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Burmah White, young blonde Santa Ana widow who has been accused of aiding her late husband, Thomas N. White, in numerous robberies will plead tomorrow morning to an indictment charging her with 11 felonies.

Her intention, she said today, is to plead not guilty, contending that her husband, later shot to death by police, forced her to accompany him on numerous holdups.

'Human Radio' May Get Relief Soon

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 14.—(UP)—After medical science failed to aid him, Martin Bodker, Tacoma dairyman who has been called a "human radio," today hopes to obtain relief from equipment designed by William Gunston, Tacoma radio engineer.

Bodker's life has been tormented by electric waves from radio. In preliminary tests made by Gunston, the electric waves were partially eliminated from Bodker's body with a small filter attached to bands wrapped around his wrists.

When beset by the radio waves, Bodker has injected a cane, wrapped with wire, into a can of water. This supplied a ground. Use of the filter Gunston believes, will eliminate necessity of grounding himself in this method.

LAMONT OUTS PRESIDENCY OF STEEL GROUP

Absence Of Sympathy For NRA Program Is Reason Given For Act

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Resignation of Robert P. LaMont, President Hoover's secretary of commerce, as president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, was attributed today to absence of sympathy for the National Recovery program.

LaMont gave a hint of his motive in a letter of resignation made public yesterday. Business observers familiar with his views recalled his statements of recent months in which he thought the Recovery Act asked more of the steel industry than could be expected.

The letter of resignation was

SOUTHERN MEXICO HIT BY HURRICANE

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14.—(UP)—A hurricane struck southern Mexico early today, causing great damage on land and endangering ships at sea.

Yucatan and Campeche states were hit hard and the storm was moving up the east coast, menacing shipping in the Vera Cruz and Tampico areas.

Three persons were killed in three villages near San Angel, a suburb of Mexico City, when the Magdalena river overflowed at three separate points. Many houses were washed away. The flood was not connected with the hurricane.

BIDS FOR HIGHWAY WORK AWARDED

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14.—(UP)—First step in California's "million a week" highway construction program aimed to create 50,000 jobs by Christmas had been taken today with announcement of low bidders on 13 projects in various sections of the state.

More than 200 contractors crowded into the public works department offices for the bid opening, which represented one-third of the $4,380,000 highway bids to be opened this week. Remaining bids for the first unit will be opened late today and tomorrow.

STATE SUES TO HALT TIDELAND OIL "TAPPING"

Division Of State Lands Starts Proceedings To Recover Millions

FIRST STEPS were taken today in the state's attempt to recover millions of dollars from oil operators in the Huntington Beach field by filing an application for an injunction and accounting from the Termo Corporation, E. E. Combs, H. John Eastman, H. John Eastman Ltd., and R. H. Garrison. The application was filed by L. G. Campbell, representing Attorney General U. S. Webb and Webb Shadle, attorney for the Division of State Lands for the Department of Finance of the State of California.

At the same time Campbell and Shadle filed three affidavits asking an order to show cause why state employees should not be permitted to survey Termo well No. 4 to determine whether trespass has occurred. Indications are that hearing on the order to show cause will be held September 22 at 2 p. m. before Presiding Judge G. K. Scovel in department three.

The proceedings to secure an injunction and accounting alleges the Termo Corporation and the other defendants are guilty of trespass beneath tidelands owned by the State of California and the draining of oil pools beneath these lands. An accounting of all oil and gas taken from the Termo No. 4 well on the Combs property is also requested.

Other defendants named in the suit are the Pacific Electric Railway company, Huntington Beach company, City of Huntington Beach, Standard Oil company, and three corporations designated as X, Y and Z corporations.

According to estimates of attorneys filing the action and G. J. Brown, of the State Division of Oil and Gas the action will affect approximately 40 wells of which 23 have been producing since January 1 with an average daily production of from 50 to 4000 barrels of oil.

An immediate result of Uchida's resignation and Hirota's succession, observers said, would be a further acceleration of the power of General Sadao Araki, ascetic-appearing minister of war.

Uchida and Araki at times appeared to be working at cross-purposes during the troubled days when the war minister's soldiers were marching in Manchuria while Uchida's ambassadors assured world powers no further advances were intended.

CUBAN GOVERNMENT ISSUES ORDERS TO SAFEGUARD ALL AMERICAN LIVES IN ISLAND

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)
HAVANA, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Col. Fulgencio Batista, army chief of staff, sent strict orders today to all provincial troops today to safeguard 1200 Americans scattered throughout the island, 750 in zones affected by strikes.

President Ramon Grau San Martin and his cabinet, trying desperately to restore normal conditions and avert any necessity for American intervention, met until 1:45 a. m. today.

Doubtful If Jury To Get Case Today

Defense Attorneys Argue State Fails To Show Motive For Killing

SAN JOSE, Sept. 14.—(UP)—The state failed to show "anything intimate or improper" in the relationship between David R. Lamson, accused of slaying his wife and blonde Mrs. Sara Kelley, Sacramento divorcee, Maurice Rankin attorney for the defense, told the jury today.

Rankin, presenting the first of the defense's closing arguments, struck at prosecution evidence linking the pair, the state intimated Mrs. Kelley's associations with Lamson led to quarrels in the "ideally happy campus home" where on Memorial day Mrs. Lamson was found dead in the bathtub with her skull fractured.

Rankin called the state's intimations "obviously unfair."

The length of the jury addresses delivered by John P. Fitzgerald for the prosecution and Rankin delayed submission of the murder charges to the jury of seven men and five women.

Fitzgerald told the jury to outline the prosecution case, alleging jealousy and anger over "sex frustration," and also mentioning Mrs. Kelley's associations with Lamson led to quarrels in the "ideally happy campus home" where on Memorial day Mrs. Lamson was found dead in the bathtub with her skull fractured.

"I submit to you that no motive has been shown in this case," Rankin shouted.

DECLARES HOOVER FAVORED REPEAL

DEL MONTE, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Herbert Hoover, champion of the "noble experiment" for years, privately favored repeal of the 18th amendment during the last year of his presidency, 400 delegates to the annual convention of the American Hotel Association were told last night by Arthur Race of Boston.

In a report of his activity as chairman of the association's prohibition committee, Race declared:

"Mr. Hoover called me to Washington and told me, in a private conversation, that he favored repeal of the 18th amendment as soon as possible.

"He also told me of the magnitude of the bootleg industry and said it should be eliminated.

"But he asked me not to make our conversation public."

UPTON SINCLAIR TO DESERT SOCIALISTS TO SEEK OFFICE OF GOVERNOR AS DEMOCRAT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Upton Sinclair, many times Socialist candidate for governor of California, widely known as a writer, has deserted his party.

Sinclair has registered as a Democrat to become the gubernatorial candidate of a group of bourgeois dissatisfied with the present party alignment in California, now split into camps headed by Senator William Gibbs McAdoo and Justus Wardell.

Sinclair told the United Press today he was approached recently by Gilbert F. Stevenson of Santa Monica, Democratic county committeeman, and told that the seven members of the Santa Monica delegation had agreed to sign his nominating petition for governor if he would register as a Democrat.

"Although I swore I would keep out of politics and stick to writing, I was interested and agreed to the plan," Sinclair said.

The platform drawn up by the writer is designed to "end poverty in California." The "epic" plan, in other words, Sinclair said. The party's emblem is a honeybee. "Not a predatory eagle," he said, and it bears a pronounced

FEDERAL FAIR PRICE FOR GAS IS THREATENED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Fair price schedules for gasoline and crude oil were rushed to completion today to form a basis for federal price fixing.

Secretary of Interior Ickes, oil code administrator, made clear that the government would invoke its newly-strengthened price-fixing powers unless gasoline price-cutting wars in California, Brooklyn, N. Y., and other sections were ended promptly.

Oil circles generally regarded price fixing as imminent, although Ickes expressed hope that the oil companies themselves "will take prompt measures to keep within not only the letter but the spirit of the code."

Drafting of price recommendations was in the hands of the industry's planning and co-ordinating committee. It was completing elaborate schedules of differentials for the various territories and grades of oil. Ickes will study the oil men's data closely before taking any action. He also was gathering detailed reports regarding the extent of price cutting.

The chief danger of gasoline price wars is that they might react seriously on the administration's effort to stabilize crude oil at a profitable level. Crude prices have risen considerably since the administration limited production, but are still below the goal of around $1.25 for Mid-Continent crude.

The government's price-fixing powers were strengthened greatly when President Roosevelt yesterday approved changes in the oil code authorizing the establishment of minimum and maximum prices for all petroleum products, from the well to the filling station. The

VIOLENCE REPORTED IN MINERS' STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Violence today, the "holocaust" of more than 35,000 Pennsylvania soft coal miners, determined to force operators to come to terms on a code for the industry.

Two clashes between picket lines and company deputies in Fayette county resulted in casualties estimated at 40. Ten men, including a deputy, were in Uniontown, Pa., hospital, some of the critically wounded by gunshot. At least five others were taken to the hospital to have superficial wounds dressed.

The men were victims of a gun battle at Gates on H. C. Frick Coke company mine, about 12 miles from here.

The other clash was a hand-to-hand affair with clubs and stones at Edensburg, another Frick property. None of the score or more injured there was in a serious condition.

IMMEDIATE ACTION IS DEMANDED

Chairmen Senate Finance Committees Favor Issuance Treasury Notes

PROPOSES PROGRAM

Solon Would Raise Price Of Gold; Create Dollar Stabilization Fund

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(UP)—The inflation storm broke today like a thunderclap on Capitol Hill with Chairman Fletcher of the senate banking and currency committee and Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee demanding immediate administration action to raise commodity prices.

"If the administration does not act before congress meets," Harrison said, "congress will compel adoption of an inflationary policy and not leave it to the discretion of the administration as was the case with the Thomas inflation amendment."

"I have spoken my sentiments to those higher up," Harrison predicted adoption of a new administration monetary policy in the near future, indicating it would be in full swing by mid-October when the movement of cotton from the farms reaches its peak.

Fletcher and Harrison both said today they believed the treasury should immediately issue some or all of the $3,000,000,000 of treasury notes authorized under the Thomas amendment. But Harrison said he doubted the treasury notes would be issued.

Harrison complained that the dollar was too high and the price of gold too low. He proposed a program of inflation which would include some or all of the following:

1. Issue treasury notes.
2. Raise the price of gold in the domestic market.
3. Purchase silver and issue treasury notes against it regardless whether French and British cooperation could be obtained.
4. Create a dollar stabilization fund to force the value of the dollar down and to keep it there.

TWO MILLIONS SEE NEW YORK PARADE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Another million of the unemployed will be back at work by October 1, General Hugh S. Johnson predicted today after New York staged its greatest peace-time demonstration for the national recovery program.

The psychology of unemployment has been replaced by the psychology of re-employment, Johnson believes. This, he said, had been his hardest task.

New York gave a mass expression of confidence yesterday when more than a quarter million citizens, bankers as well as needle workers, marched up Fifth avenue. At least two million more looked on. The celebration lasted more than 19 hours.

EXPERT URGES USE OF CARE IN SIGNING PAPERS

Methods of preventing use of signed documents for fraudulent purposes were outlined by J. Clark Sellers, noted handwriting expert and past president of the Los Angeles Kiwanis club, at the regular meeting of Santa Ana Kiwanis club yesterday afternoon in Ketter's cafe.

Sellers, who was introduced by Dr. John Wehrly, program chairman of the day, warned merchants never to sign a document without reading it thoroughly and knowing what it is.

Seventy per cent of the fraudulent documents could be prevented if common sense rules are followed, he said. He advised people to sign documents close to the body of the writing so that nothing could be added to change the nature of the document or be clipped off and a promissory note or other document written above the signature.

When in bank do not sign deposit slips and throw them to the floor, he advised, because there are men who make the round of banks picking up the signatures and obtaining information in this manner for criminal uses. He advised the use of a check protector, although, he said, any check can be raised.

The importance of making out a will properly was stressed, Sellers declared that a lawyer should be consulted in this important matter and that bequests should be clearly made.

Entertainment for the meeting was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. William Streuber, Los Angeles, niece and nephew of Dr. Wehrly. The talented baritone, who sang several numbers, was warmly received.

Dr. Harry G. Huffman, president, announced that balloting for nomination of officers and directors will take place at the meeting next Wednesday noon. He announced the appointment of a committee to take charge of the election which will follow.

HEALTH OFFICIAL ADDRESSES CLUB

Members and guests of the Orange County Breakfast club heard Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, discuss sleeping sickness at the regular weekly meeting in Ketter's cafe this morning.

Dr. Sutherland explained symptoms of the disease, described its serious nature and explained that little is known about the disease which must be closely guarded in sections where it breaks out. Entertainment for the meeting was supplied by Frank S. Pierce, director of music at the Christian church and vocal instructor, who sang several vocal numbers, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Blanche Hackleton.

C. F. Skirven was named to take charge of the program next Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock when the club meets.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 14. (To the Editor of The Register:) Say, Los Angeles came through with something yesterday that looks like one of the best measures to help offset this crime racket. It looks like every time man commits a crime and is caught his prison record reads like he had been a tourist inmate of every prison worth attending. There hasn't been an amateur crook caught in years. Well, Los Angeles makes every visiting ex-criminal register. Course you will say "yes, but he won't register." Well, that's the catch. If he don't he is liable to six months' imprisonment for not complying to the law. Certain State-paroled ones are exempt to save injustice to ones who are doing right. But it's mainly to catch the visiting gentlemen. It might be worth other towns looking into.

Yours,
WILL.

STATE SUES TO HALT TIDELAND OIL "TAPPING"

barrels of oil daily. Brown said that according to the reports for June, the latest compiled, the average production is 2000 barrels per month per well, representing approximately $28,000 monthly.

The state charges that the Terno corporation is "tapping" illegally a vast reservoir of petroleum that lies beneath the ocean off that city and belongs to the state.

It is charged by the state that these reservoirs of petroleum were "tapped" by use of devices which permit well drillers to deliberately deviate from the perpendicular to a certain angle after having drilled off at any angle after having drilled to the state contention, by means of an arrangement known as a "whipstock."

The state charges that the operators went down perpendicularly on their own property which is on the inland side of Ocean avenue and then slanted their drills seaward and downward until they reached the immense offshore oil pool.

The state charged is its action that in doing this the drillers passed through and under, without consent, properties of the Pacific Electric railway, which has a right of way for its trains through Huntington Beach; the Huntington Beach company; the Standard Oil company which has wells and oil bearing lands near the beach and the City of Huntington Beach which owns Ocean avenue.

Brown said today that the State Division of Oils and Gas are not a party to the suit other than it had been asked to advise with the attorney general on technical phases of the complaint. He said that records of the Division of Oil and Gas are not public records and will not be used at the trial.

The State Division of Oils and Gas, Brown said, is a semi-public bureau maintained by the operators for the pro-rating of production and to supervise drilling and production as it relates to the protection of sub-surface deposits of oil, gas and fresh water supplies.

Taking unused lands, he added, would put the speculators out of business.

Sinclair, while registering as a Democrat, admitted he still held firmly to many principles of the Socialist party, which he led in California for so many years.

dated Sept. 1 and apparently was submitted on that date to 200 steel company executives.

"On August 29 the board of directors (of the Steel Institute) held its first meeting in the capacity as administrator of the (steel) code," Lamont's letter stated. "Three representatives of the National Recovery administration attended the meeting, marking the beginning of government regulation of business. No one knows how far it may go."

Lamont expressed the opinion that the institute would be concerned chiefly with seeing that the code's provisions were carried out, eliminating the possibility of "forward looking studies and plans for the industry as a whole."

"I can be of little help in this work," he said.

Lamont will be succeeded in his $100,000 post by Charles M. Schwab, whose place he took 13 months ago after resigning as secretary of commerce.

His renomination as a Republican, the letter said, is doubtful due to opposition of conservatives in the party. The latter group plans to advance Ex-Governor Friend W. Richardson as a candidate, it was reported.

The letter said his re-election would be doubtful if he runs as a Progressive because he will be caught between the flow of votes to candidates of the two major parties.

W. S. S. Rogers, president of the Texas company, refused the oil committee cost and price data.

REGISTRATION REQUIRED FOR NIGHT CLASSES

Heads and members of unemployed families will be exempted from the $1 registration fee per class per semester at the Santa Ana Evening High school this year. It was announced today by Mrs. Golden Weston, principal. Many registrations already have been made in the various classes offered in the school. In the past it has been customary for those entering to register in the class room, but this year the fee is being charged and so it is necessary to have registrations before entering the class, Mrs. Weston said. While the school office will be open from 6 p. m. on, confusion and delay can be avoided by registering in advance, Mrs. Weston said. Special arrangements have been made for registering at the adult education office, room 10 of the city school administration building, 1012 North Main street. This office will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Friday and Saturday this week and Monday next week. Opportunities of the adult education department are open to all adults of Santa Ana and surrounding communities. Seven graduated from the evening high school last year and credits are awarded toward high school graduation.

FIFTIETH ANNUAL MEETING OF ORANGE COUNTY W.C.T.U. CONVENES IN ORANGE TODAY

With Mrs. Cora Hale of Fullerton, president of the Orange County Woman's Christian Temperance Union, presiding, the Golden Jubilee convention of the organization was opened in the Orange First Methodist church this morning with a devotional service led by Mrs. J. H. Walker, evangelistic director. Mrs. Walker led the salute to the Christian flag and the salute to the national emblem was led by Mrs. Margaret Utt.

Mrs. Minnie Nevelle, president of the Orange W. C. T. U., gave the address of welcome to the officers and delegates, and the response was given by Mrs. Amy Evans of Santa Ana. Annual reports of officers were given by Mrs. Elizabeth Warren, recording secretary; Mrs. Sarah Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alma J. Kellogg, treasurer, and Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, auditor. A business session was followed by noon prayer, and luncheon was served at noon by the Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist church, under the direction of Mrs. J. R. Kenyon.

The luncheon program opened with memoirs by Mrs. Emma Cash Clapp, organizer of the Santa Ana, Tustin and Orange unions, a half century ago; early reminiscences by Mrs. Sarah Brown, and "Our Yesterdays," by Mrs. Hattie C. Young.

In the afternoon Dr. James E. Dunning, pastor of the church, opened the session with a devotional service. The Golden Jubilee hour was a feature of the afternoon, and Mrs. Anna Hall spoke on "Future Citizens." Mrs. Bertha Brinker gave a reading, "Sweet Day of Rest"; Mrs. Laura McClurken spoke on "Our Tomorrows," while the vocal solo was given by Mrs. Leon Des Larzes of Orange. The district winner in the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, C. A. Loring of Highland, gave an address, "A Square Deal for Temperance."

Tonight devotionals are to be led by Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the Orange Presbyterian church, and special music will be by Miss Esther Thomas and Miss Elsie Parsons, both of Orange. The state president, Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, will give the address of the evening, "The New Crusade."

"GOODBYE AGAIN" ON AT BROADWAY

With an unusually well known cast, "Goodbye Again," called the year's best comedy hit, is offered to the patrons of the Broadway theater starting today. The picture will play through Saturday. Joan Blondell and Warren William, who had leads in "Gold Diggers of 1933," are seen as two of the stars in "Goodbye Again." Others include Genevieve Tobin, Wallace Ford, Helen Chandler and Ruth Donnelly.

The story concerns a business man and his stenographer, their love affair, her perfect understanding of him, in spite of his arrogance, and some spicy dialogue.

Test Of Orchard Heaters Held At Ranch October 3

A series of field meetings in Southern California has been arranged by the Agricultural Extension service to demonstrate new developments in orchard heaters and to give growers an opportunity to test the efficiency of their present heaters. A limited number of tests will be made for growers who notify Farm Advisor Wahlberg prior to October 3, the date of the demonstration in Orange county.

Methods of simple readjustments to improve the efficiency of old heaters will be shown by members of the extension service staff, who have developed some valuable ideas that may be adopted with the minimum of expense.

The Orange county demonstration will be held at the Mabury ranch headquarters, near the corner of Fruit and Mabury streets, Tustin, two miles east of Santa Ana. For growers located in the northern part of the county, the demonstration scheduled at North Whittier Heights Citrus association, September 23 at 9:30 a. m., will be more convenient.

WHAT A FATTY

MISTER! Here's the way to get Rid of FAT
Don't let them wisecrack about you this Summer. Fool them. Get rid of fat the Harvin Way — the simple, safe, pleasant way.
Just take half a teaspoonful of MINT-FLAVORED Harvin Salts in a glass of water every morning and follow the Harvin Plan that's in the package.
There's nothing more to it than that. Yet fat disappears—many report losing 16 to 20 pounds a month and feeling 100 per cent better.
Mint-flavored Harvin Salts are pleasant to take. They help you lose fat by stimulating sluggish glands, one of the chief causes of overweight. They also prevent distressing acidity.
The Harvin Plan is a blessing to stout people, for it allows them to eat everything—even pie, ice cream, cake, cookies—yet keeps their weight under control at all times.
Start losing disgusting fat today. Ask at Walgreen's or any druggist for a package of Mint-Flavored Harvin Salts. The cost is trifling.—Adv.

K. C. BUILDING TO BE REMODELED AT COST OF $3800

Plans and specifications for reconstructing and remodeling the Knights of Columbus lodge hall at 401 East Fourth street, this city, which was seriously damaged during the earthquake of last March, have been completed, and contract for the work has been let to the Fluor Construction company, of Anaheim. It was announced today by P. Chester Dietler, grand knight of the Santa Ana lodge of the organization.

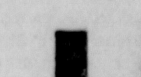

A building permit covering the project was issued today by City Building Inspector Sam Preble, according to which, the repairs and alterations will involve an expense of $3800.

In addition to affecting necessary repairs to the structure, the plans call for a number of improvements, including the installation of new lavatories and other accommodations. Under the new floor plan, it was stated, it will be possible for two organizations to hold meetings the same night without one interfering with the other.

It is expected to have the building ready for a grand reconstruction jubilee to be staged on the night of October 12, and for which an elaborate program is now being prepared by the Santa Ana lodge in cooperation with other lodges in nearby cities, it was stated.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

A razor blade shortage —and its cause

AMAZING public response—far exceeding our most optimistic estimates—greeted Gillette's drastic price reduction.

At this writing many wholesalers and retail dealers are out of stock. The factory cannot keep pace with demand. The reason for this is very simple. Quality must be maintained at any cost. This instruction is law in our factory.

In fact—today inspection is even more rigid than ever. Each operation is supervised with extreme care. We are pledged to a continuance of the highest standards of excellence.

Expansion to meet present demand without lessening quality now is being attained. If your dealer is out of blades his stock should be replenished within a few days.

In the meantime we ask your indulgence and trust you will have no difficulty in finding a store which has Gillette, Probak and Valet AutoStrop blades.

POSSESSION OF ILLEGAL BEER BRINGS ARREST

Ten new names were added yesterday to the guest list of the county jail, six appearing in connection with liquor charges.

Alleged competition with breweries turning out legalized 3.2 per cent alcoholic content beer, led to the undoing of Mrs. Mary Lizon, 39, housewife, residing outside of the Santa Ana city limits, who was brought in by Sheriff

Logan Jackson and his deputies and booked on a possession charge. Inquiries revealed that 29 quarts of home-brew lager were found on her place.

Norman Lemon, 34, machinist, 1628 West Eighth street, was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs M. F. Dean and G. P. McKelvey and booked on a charge of violation of probation. Lemon, inquiries at the sheriff's office revealed, was filed some time ago in the superior court on a criminal charge, and granted probation by Judge Allen. The prisoner is alleged to have violated the probation granted him.

Dismissal Check Charge
Intervention on the part of the district attorney's office which moved for dismissal of a check charge, saved Roland Banks, 27, who gave his occupation as that of writer, from a prolonged stay in Sheriff Jackson's hostelry. Banks, who lives at East Terrace, Avalon, Catalina Island, was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Arthur Ellis and E. E. Perry on a warrant issued by Justice of Peace C. C. Cravath, of Laguna Beach. The warrant was issued as a result of a complaint filed by E. J. Pitzel, of Laguna Beach, said to be in business in that city.

Joseph Miller, 58, poultry rancher of Westminster, was brought in by Deputy Sheriffs Ed Nickles and Geo. A. Graupenberger and booked on a charge of selling liquor.

Men Sentenced
Constable Gail Burgoyne of Huntington Beach brought in P. W. Snyder, 63, rancher, Sunset Beach, who had been sentenced by Justice of Peace Chris Pans, of Huntington Beach to 30 days in the county jail on a drunk charge, 20 days of which sentence were suspended.

Harry A. Weller, 53, plumber, 114 South Illinois street, Anaheim, was arrested and booked on an intoxication charge.

Sentenced to pay fines, or in lieu thereof serve time in the county jail, by City Judge W. A. Leonard of Newport Beach, were Elmer W. Gilmore, 23, waiter, 4234 Montclair avenue, Los Angeles, and William McArdle, 24, salesman, 1916 Walnut street, Long Beach, who were booked at the county jail on a drunk charge, $50 fine or 25 days in jail, on a charge of disturbing the peace and intoxication, while McArdle was let off with a $10 fine, or 5 days' imprisonment, on a drunk charge.

Charles C. Dunbar, 55, electrical contractor, 1117 South Garnsey street, Santa Ana, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff E. E. Perry on a complaint filed in Imperial county. The defendant was afterwards released on $250 bail.

September 19, "Vegetable Gardening by the Unemployed in Los Angeles County," F. H. Ernst, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county.

September 20, "Bovine Tuberculosis Control in California," Dr. C. U. Duckworth, chief, division of animal husbandry, State Department of agriculture.

September 21, "Birds and Small Animals of the Southern California Forests," Ranger Coulter.

September 22, "New Insect Pests," Harold J. Ryan, agricultural commissioner, Los Angeles county.

September 23, "The Farm Bureau's Educational Program," Roy K. Cole, state director, Los Angeles County Farm Bureau.

Court Notes

Francisco Fuentes, charged with robbery, had his preliminary hearing postponed yesterday in justice court to September 20. He is accused of stealing a purse containing $52 from Mrs. Julia Sultzer, Santa Ana.

K. E. MacDonald, Santa Ana, paid a $150 fine for drunk driving when he appeared in police court yesterday.

Jimmy Harris, 2013 Halladay street, charged with drunk driving, appeared in police court yesterday and was fined $150 or ordered to serve 75 days in the county jail. He paid $40 and promised to pay the balance in monthly installments.

Mrs. Ruth Mahan, widow of Thomas Mahan of Santa Ana who died August 13, last, has filed in superior court her petition for letters of administration over her husband's estate. Mahan, according to the petition, died intestate. In addition to petitioning for letters of administration Mrs. Mahan asks that if the court finds the estate does not exceed $2500 in value to set aside the entire amount for her.

'ONLY CIVILIZED PEOPLE STARVE AMIDST PLENTY'

Subjects before the Toastmasters club assumed a technical form when Dwight Hamilton, toastmaster of the evening, introduced his speakers last evening at the Doris Kathryn Tea room. One declared that only civilized people starve in the midst of plenty.

Members were given an insight into psycho-analysis by Dr. E. Lee Russell, who traced the studies of Sigmund Freud and asserted that the learned neurologist had discovered that we are not conscious of all we think, that we are possessed of psycho-censors, are governed by a law of the unconscious, and that dream interpretation can be made, under skillful handling, a means of uncovering mental troubles.

Dr. H. J. Howard, speaking on "Our Rights and Duties," asserted that we give attention to our rights but frequently fail to couple with them a sense of the accompanying duties and obligations. He cited the home brewer, the road hog and the conscienceless business executive as asserting their "rights," but without any regard to consequences or the rights of others. He dwelt on mistaken ideas of patriotism, and held that opposition to military training and the teaching of internationalism was hurtful to the nation.

Ernest S. Wooster and Fred H. Eley selected sociological subjects, the first tracing the clash between individualism and the collectivity, expressing the belief that the NRA campaign was an outgrowth of the increasing spirit of collectivism, and its success depended on the public understanding and knowledge of this principle.

Eley told his hearers that civilization's methods are challenged by the more intelligent handling of problems by primitive people. He pointed out that only civilized people starve in the midst of plenty, that sharing instead of individual hoarding were common among primitives. He concluded that only through education could civilization learn to handle its complex problems.

Dean W. Campbell gave the club an insight into the development of aviation under the head of "Flying Blind." He traced the hazards of flying in a fog, and said that scientific inventors had perfected a device which makes blind flying possible and landing in a heavy fog perfectly feasible and practicable.

Harvey Emley varied the usual type of subject and presentation by narrating his personal experience as a fire fighter, dwelling in some detail on the methods used, the manner of recruiting fighters in an emergency, and the problems encountered.

LESLIE HOWARD IN WAR FILM SHOWING

About once each year, a war picture which inspires and which is rated as one of the most appealing of the year is made, "Captured," which comes to the Fox West Coast theater today to play through tomorrow, is reported such a film.

It is the latest starring vehicle for Leslie Howard and other important actors in the cast are Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Paul Lukas. The girl in the plot is Margaret Lindsay.

War, with its human side as well as its devastation is pictured, while the plot concerns a man who finds his friend has won his fiancée while he is away and then suddenly realizes that he holds this man's life at his command.

The longest railway run is from Riga to Vladivostok, 6800 miles.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resists substitutes. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Daughter Beats Mother in Finals

The final round in the women's championship of the Southern Oregon-Northern California Golf Tournament at Medford, Ore., turned out to be a family affair, with Mrs. T. J. Fuson, several years defending champion, losing the crown to her own daughter, Anna Mae Fuson. The mother has long been one of the leading golfers of the Pacific northwest, and her daughter also has become a factor in tournament play.

NEW SIDE LINE RULE HAILED BY GRID COACHES

By FRANK (BUCK) O'NEILL
(N. A. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Glenn S. Warner, head coach at Temple university in Philadelphia, today hailed the new rule placing a ball ten yards in from the sidelines in the event that it has been carried or kicked to within that distance of the border of the field. The former master of Carlisle Indian school, Pittsburgh and Stanford said it was the first break the attack has had since the introduction of the forward pass.

The definition of clipping, broadened to include any running into the back of a passer or any other player not carrying the ball, will not have a great deal of influence on play, Warner thinks.

"I think that carrying the ball in ten yards from the side lines will add interest and variety to the game this fall," said Warner following an exhibition of rules put on by Columbia here. "It is one of the few breaks the attack has had since 1906, when the forward pass was introduced."

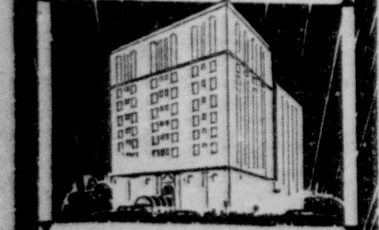

"By limiting the attack in football, rule makers took something out of the game. I have always endeavored to create interesting and sound methods of offense in football."

A consensus of coaches observing the demonstration of the new rules given by the Columbia squad was that while everything shown was rudimentary and should be known by every football coach, football would be benefited by holding similar demonstrations throughout the country, inviting the public.

"Instructing the public in the niceties of the new rules is a form of salesmanship," said Lou Little, coach of Columbia. "It is one thing for coaches to attend these demonstrations, but the public should be invited to similar days throughout the country."

None of the coaches was willing to go into any discussion of the statement made by Dr. Marvin Stevens of Yale on the probable number of fatalities in football this coming season. One and all agreed a rugged game like football would always be hazardous, but fought shy of discussing the points he stressed. All said that every precaution would be used to prevent accident.

SOMERVILLE TRAILS LITTLE Saints To Scrimmage Tustin, Wilson

TWO WORKOUTS DECIDE LINE UP FOR '33 OPENER

Coach Bill Foote today completed pre-training plans for Santa Ana high school's first football game of the season—with Orange next week, date and place unsettled but inside the Municipal Bowl on a Saturday night if the board of education nods assent.

Tustin's Tillers, led by their broad-beamed head man, "Big Bill" Cole, will come to Poly field for a scrimmage tomorrow. Woodrow Wilson H. of Long Beach invades the Parton street orchard next Tuesday for the same purpose. Rocky Kemp coaches the Bruins.

What the Saints show him in these workouts, especially the one with Woodrow Wilson, will decide Foote's starting lineup against Orange. Foote will use his best men in the Wilson scuffle but will be limited to his less-hefty boys while drilling with Tustin.

The Santa Anans had an afternoon of "dummy" and real scrimmage at Poly field yesterday, and the man of the hour was a player appearing in a Saint jacket for the first time since spring practice, Center Dave Webb.

An alert, football-wise fellow of about 160 pounds, Webb has the pivotal post already cinched if he plays all season as he did this one day. Operating with a so-called second string, Webb time and again knifed through to break up the best running plays of Coach Foote's prize backs, Art Stranks and Leland.

Webb was a member of the '32 squad until a serious illness forced him out of school for the entire semester. He did not report for practice until yesterday when he showed up along with four other stragglers, Ray Walkinshaw, Charles Ortiz, Ed Eastman and Jack Robinson. Foote pressed Webb into action immediately, anxious to see what he could do against the first string. Foote was duly impressed with Webb's possibilities.

Five men of considerable experience have yet to check out. The most important of these, Guard Ray Miller, a minor letterman and a potential regular, may not be back at all as he has enlisted in a C. C. camp. Other tardy candidates are Guard Don Martin, Tackle Jack Shanahan, End Alfred Oliphant, Back Bruce Swisshelm.

Madigan, at the close of last season, declared that in 1933 he would have three complete teams, each a unit in itself. To outward appearances, his desire seems granted. He has the material.

His probable first team is a powerful aggregation. The line, with the lightest man, George Caninus, weighing 182 pounds, averages 210 and represents a front that appears almost impenetrable. Under his new tandem system of attack, Madigan declares he needs a strong line.

The brothers Caninus, Fred and George, well remembered by University of Southern California, seemed destined to hold down the wing positions.

Veteran Tackles Return
Gilbert and Jorgenson, regulars last year, return to fill the tackle positions.

Gerardin and Schaefer return as veteran guards.

Matt Brasyno, 225-pound sophomore who clinched a regular berth at guard by his work in spring practice, became ill this summer. He recovered sufficiently to return to school. Recently he became ill again. Rather than take any risks, "Slip" ruled him out for the season. Brasyno, Madigan said, was the greatest line prospect ever to appear at St. Mary's.

Mervin Yates, substitute of Rubel last year, is strongly entrenched at center.

The first string backfield combination finds Ahern at quarter, Wilson and Nichol at halves and Dodson at full.

Open Against U. S. F.
The Gaels open October 1 against University of San Francisco. Then California and Southern California are played on successive Saturdays. A "breather" against Nevada follows. The Gaels then will hop eastward to New York and battle Fordham Nov. 4. Returning they resume athletic relations with College of the Pacific Nov. 11.

The "Little Big Game" with Santa Clara is next on the program and six days later U. C. L. A. furnishes the Gaels' opposition. On Nov. 30 the Gaels meet Oregon in San Francisco, and wind up their season Dec. 9 against the Mustangs from Southern Methodist.

Next—Idaho.

Corbus Weighs 190 For Cards' Season

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 14.—Bill Corbus, Stanford's All-American guard, has put on weight during the summer months and probably will enter the 1933 football season weighing more than 190 pounds for the first time.

National To Get Opening Series Fray

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—(UP)—The world series will open in a National league October 4, it was decided today at a meeting in Commissioner Kenesaw Landis' office attended by representatives of both major league baseball associations.

RIVERSIDE AND CHAFFEY RATED AHEAD OF DONS

Despite an encouraging raft of material, Santa Ana's Dons have not been installed prime favorites to win the Eastern Junior College conference football championship. In pre-season ratings, Coach Bill Cooke's squad must fall behind Riverside and Chaffey of Ontario, whose outlooks are everything but gloomy.

Ted Needham, 194-pound full-back who played regularly for Coach Burt Heiser at Chaffey last fall, broke the sad news here today that Chaffey will have a '33 line averaging 200 pounds (even heavier than the league's heaviest line possessed by Chaffey in '32), and that Jack Keough, a triple-threat back from Pomona, promises to become one of the best ball-carriers since "Zeke" Keough, his brother and brilliant Chaffey star of '29, whom Heiser recently selected on his all-time Ontario eleven.

Needham, who has just returned from Chaffey and should know what he is talking about, is residing in San Clemente, and plans to enter Santa Ana jayvee if he can secure part-time employment. He would be all the Dons need to complete a brilliant backfield roster now containing Fred Bell, Harold Welty, Ray Hapes, Harry McIntire, Wilburn Anderson, Bill Bouldin, Earle Horton, Robert Phillips and a few others of first-string caliber.

Coach Jesse Mortensen of Riverside, always greeted with exceptional talent, has arranged to take his '33 team to the Santa Ana conference flag last fall, lost most of their '33 lettermen, but have everything with which to rebuild for another successful season.

The other four members of the circuit—Fullerton, Citrus, San Bernardino and Pomona—report fall prospects, Coach Art Nunn of Fullerton receiving his best pre-talent from Brea and Whittier; Coach Al Claves of Citrus his best from Anaheim and Azusa; Coach Art Schaefer of San Bernardino his most encouraging from San Bernardino and Redlands high schools, and Coach L. H. Van Clave of Pomona several good players from Pomona H.

Scheduled to meet the U. S. C. freshmen in a night game here one week from tomorrow, Coach Cooke indicated today that he might call his Dons out Saturday for a special session. With only five days to drill remaining for the contest, the Santa Anans must work overtime to have an adequate offense prepared for the Trojans. Their defense looked much better yesterday, with Capt. "Bomo" Koral and Miles Norton, husky tackles, in suit for the first time.

And the Husky Grew Huskier

With football practice scheduled to start Saturday, the University of Washington squad managers are up against the same baffling problem—clothing Ted Isaacson, giant tackle, who continues to grow larger. He's 21 now, stands 6 feet 3 1/2 inches without cleats, and weighs 263 pounds, and his playing equipment must be made to order. He's believed the largest regular in the Pacific Coast Conference. Photo shows how much regular sizes miss fitting.

There are two "Clippers" Smiths coaching football this year. . . . One's at North Carolina State and the other's at Santa Clara. . . . Carl Hubbell, Giant ace twirler, is known for his screw ball. . . . but his butterfly ball is said to be an even better fooler. . . . is flutters right up there to the plate and sets the opposing batter's heart a-flutter. . . . the same ball Hod Lisenbee discovered.

A man who has hit more home runs in a season than Babe Ruth at the peak of his batting power. . . . a man still young at 33. . . . Joe Hauser. . . . yet he reclaims his chances for returning to the majors are not so good.

On Labor day Hauser hit his 65th home run and now is on his way to 70. . . . that overshadows Ruth's record of 60. . . . why doesn't same major league club grab Hauser? . . . because of a trick knee!

CHILD OF CALAMITY
Hauser gave brilliant promise eight years ago last spring when he appeared in the A's training camp. . . . the players liked him and called him "Unser (Our) Joe". . . . but in a game at Philadelphia he broke his kneecap chasing a foul fly. . . . he was out all year. . . . and as far as the majors are concerned he is dead.

ISN'T THERE A PLACE?
The fences are admittedly short in Joe's league. . . . but the mighty "Burr" Arlett, Baltimore powerhouse, thought he had earned his keep when he coked 54 homers last year. . . . 11 short of Joe's new record.

There ought to be a place somewhere under the big top for "Unser Joe". . . . and here's hoping some ball club sees the point.

WHAT HE NEEDS
Here is Max Baer, the hardest hitter in the game, and a fighter with real ring instinct, frittering away time that should be spent improving himself for the battle that is sure to come with Carnenera.

Max proved he had a punch and that he could take it but was hard to hit when he fought Schmeling. But he showed also in that fight that he lacked certain ring finesse that he will need when he steps into the ring against the big clubber from Italy.

PERRY ARRIVES FOR L. A. COURT CLASSIC

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Fred Perry, the British player who won the United States singles championship at Forest Hills last week, led a delegation of foreign luminaries into Los Angeles today for the Pacific Southwest tennis championships, opening tomorrow.

Perry arrived this afternoon with Harold Lee, Frank Wilde and Edward Avery, English players; and Jiro Satoh, Ryosuke Nuno and Eikichi Itoh, members of the 1933 Japanese Davis Cup team. Nuno is champion among the Nipponese.

Other expected arrivals for the annual court classic included Mr. and Mrs. John Van Ryn. Van Ryn will team up with George Lott, his partner in the championship U. S. Davis Cup doubles squad, to attack the local title.

The tournament extends through next week.

Coach Jones To Speak At U. S. C. Rally

Howard Jones, coach of the National champion Southern California football squad, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Orange County Trojan Men's club here next Tuesday night at 7 o'clock.

Accompanied here by Freshman Coach "Jeff" Cravath and Field Secretary Ralph Wilcox, the U. S. C. mentor will discuss the problems of the coming grid season during a stag dinner at Ketter's cafe, 216 W. Fourth street.

This will be one of four Trojan rallies during the next nine months, according to President J. Wayne Harrison who said that for a November meeting President Rufus B. von KleinSmid would appear here.

TORRANCE WINS AND TAKES 3-2 EDGE IN SERIES

Huntington Beach today faced the grim necessity of defeating Torrance twice in succession if it would win the 1933 National Night league baseball championship.

The Oilers were put on this spot by losing to Torrance, 2-1, in the fifth game of the series at Huntington Beach last night. Leading in games, three-to-two, Torrance will have the added advantage of playing on its home field tomorrow night. If a seventh game is necessary, it probably will be played on a neutral field next Tuesday.

Pitching his best ball of the series, Louie Neva shaded "Chico" Sabella in the crucial fifth engagement. The Torrance youngster limited the Oilers to six hits, fanned eight and for the first time enjoyed perfect control. He issued no walks, was guilty of no wild pitches.

Sabella hurled practically as well but a brief touch of ineffectiveness in the first inning cost him the ball game. After fouling off half a dozen pitches, "Red" Moon finally worked Sabella for a pass to start the struggle. Wolf bounced to Shortstop Joe Rodgers and all hands were safe on the manager's error. Louie Neva singled to right, scoring Moon from second. Forney walked, filling the bases. Leonard tried to "squeeze" Wolf across but Sabella fielded the bunt and forced Wolf at the plate on a quick throw to Catcher Lower.

"Red" Watson lifted a fly to left, Neva tallying after the catch by Paul Neva popped out to retire the side.

Torrance got only one baserunner as far as third after the opening chucker, but Neva's hurling made the 2-0 lead hold up until the bitter end. Huntington Beach got its only run in the fifth. Murray beat out a bouncer to Neva and took an extra base when the pitcher threw to first late and wildly. Conrad's fly to center sent Murray to third and Lower's single into short-center scored him.

Pete Osborn, bespectacled Oiler outfielder, was hit on the nose by pitched ball in the fifth inning. He left the game in the seventh.

The box score:

CHAMPION TWO DOWN: MUNGER TOPS WESTLAND

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 14.—(UP)—Riddling par with a series of great shots, Max Marston, Philadelphia, 1923 champion, and Sidney Noyes Jr., Ardley, N. Y., finished all even at the end of the morning round of 18 holes in their 36-hole quarter finals match today in the National Amateur golf championship.

Noyes, a graduate of Yale last spring and conqueror of Johnny Fischer, record-breaking medalist in the second round yesterday, made a great comeback after being 3 down at the end of 10 holes. Jack Munger, 18-year-old Dallas, Tex., boy, continued to be the big surprise of the tournament by finishing the morning round 2 up on Jack Westland, of Chicago, finalist in 1931.

Lawson Little, husky Stanford collegian from San Francisco, outstroked the defending champion, Ross Comerville, of Canada, to finish the morning round, 2 up. Little came back in 34, one under par, getting his two-hole advantage on the 14th, where he sank a 20-foot putt for a birdie 3, and the 16th, where he reached the 244-yard green with a No. 2 iron shot and took a par 3.

George T. Dunlap Jr., of Flushing, N. Y., equalled par 71 and finished 3 up on Eddie Held, Jamesburg, N. J. Dunlap shot a par 71, and Held a 75.

After halving the first hole, Dunlap won the four straight two pars and two birdies. Held won the fifth with a 20-foot putt for a birdie 4. Dunlap won the sixth with a par 4, and Held the 8th with a par 4, and they rounded the turn with the former Princeton star 3 up.

CITY WILL REBUILD SEATTLE BALL PARK

SEATTLE, Sept. 14.—(UP)—The Seattle baseball club will play its Pacific Coast league home games next year at the old Rialto Valley park, which rebuilt at a cost of about $50,000 under terms of city ordinance passed over the veto of Mayor John Dore.

The council acquired ownership of the park and agreed to lease it to the ball club for 25 years. The club will pay outstanding taxes and assessments and contribute $25,000 toward building a new grandstand. King county welfare board will add $25,000 which will be repaid from the club's annual payments on the lease.

Mayor Dore vetoed the ordinance on grounds that it was an "improper use of taxpayers' money."

Members of the club entertained him at their regular dinner meeting at McFarland's cafe. Alvin Blackford is chairman of the tennis committee. The club plans to continue its activity in that line among Fullerton youth.

STOP B. O. in 2 seconds or money back

It's foolishness to think that soap or perfume can kill body odor. When any doctor can tell you the glands give off a full quart of perspiration every day of your life. There is only one deodorant guaranteed to stop body odor, safely, from the moment you apply it in the morning till evening at least—and that's PERSTIK. If it fails to do this, you get your money back.

A few strokes of PERSTIK under the arms (and on sanitary pad)—and your worry is over. Perstik is a pure white, greaseless stick, in a handsome black-and-silver hipstick case. Costs but 50c and lasts for months. All reliable dept. stores and druggists sell genuine Perstik, winner of Good Housekeeping's famous Seal of Approval. But make absolutely certain you get REAL Perstik, with the name right on the top. Don't be fooled into taking a fake, which may cause skin trouble. Tear this out.

MOLEY-ASTOR
How much is a name known to millions of readers worth to a man who wants to borrow it for his own purposes?
Apparently $30 in good merchandise.

When Vincent Astor decided to tie up his yacht and try a hand at publishing a weekly magazine of political opinion he appropriated for its name the word "Today." Arthur Brisbane's column head since before you were born. But Astor squared all this by sending the famous Hearst editor a box of twenty cigars, each worth $1.50.

There is one high official of the Roosevelt administration who may not fare so well in the Astor magazine. He is Robert Worth Bingham, American Ambassador to Great Britain.

Prof. Ray Moley, late of the Brain Trust, who is going to edit the weekly, has it in for Bingham in capital letters. Moley credits Bingham with all the subterranean propaganda at the London Economic Conference that brought him into disfavor with other members of the American delegation.

Friends of the former Assistant Secretary of State say he can prove if he chooses, with documentary evidence, that only Bingham could have given out some of the stories that appeared to his detriment.

Further, assert the Moley adherents, this same documentary evidence will show that had everything been shown around in its entirety rather than in fragmentary sentences, a different aspect would be placed on his position in London.

SOLID
Don't let anyone tell you that President Roosevelt is losing his magnetic grip on the country at large.

Not at least if the experience of the Washington correspondent for a prominent Republican newspaper is any criterion.

This reporter had occasion recently to make a trip through New York State and into New England. He came back fairly sunk over what he had seen and heard.

He was forced to make one jump by bus involving two changes. On the first bus his attention was attracted to a well dressed elderly woman of evident refinement who seemingly knew the driver through frequent travel with him. The two got into conversation and the reporter shamelessly eavesdropped.

They were talking about President Roosevelt and his recovery program in terms that must have burned his ears.

WAVED
Changing to a second bus, the news man drew a seat opposite a swarthy chap of foreign extraction and his half-grown son. The boy was perusing photographs in a tabloid.

Suddenly the father's face lit up as he glanced over the boy's shoulder. He snatched the paper from the lad's hands and pointed out a picture to the reporter. It showed Astor's yacht steaming down the Hudson River with the President aboard.

"See that," the man said, bubbling over. "I seen it. I seen him. He wave to me. He wave to everybody."

To complete the story, the Republican news sleuth boarded bus No. 3 and sat down behind a couple in their late twenties. The young man and his wife were agreeing vehemently with each other that President Roosevelt was just about the grandest man this country ever had, et cetera.

POP
Prohibitionists may get some consolation out of this item. It seems the soft drink industry is coming back strong after taking a terrific sock on the jaw from 22 beer.

Beer became respectable during a normal off-season for beverage of all kinds. In the rush to dip a nose into the foam pop was pretty nearly forgotten. Now, say the men here representing national carbonated beverage concerns, the novelty is gone from the lager.

Trading in soft drinks is largely a 5-cent business with women and children as the predominant customers. The women seem to be back in line.

The fizz water boys further are looking forward to repeal of prohibition. They anticipate big jumps in their sales of gingerale and carbonated water.

Only one hitch looms ahead. That is the growing danger of new and heavy state taxes. They say North Carolina's impost has forced half the bottlers in the State to fold up.

BREADLINES
The Federal Emergency Relief Administration is still engaged in compiling figures that will show a complete picture of the national bread line.

Final statistics won't be ready for a couple of weeks yet but those in so far would indicate the decrease in families and individuals dependent on charity has NOT been materially reduced.

Improvements reported (the figures are coming in by counties) are rather spotty. Gains show up in one place and losses elsewhere seem to largely offset them.

Officials of the Relief Administration are not ready to analyze their figures even though they show a slight net improvement for the country.

Privately they admit they are afraid the upturn may be seasonal. Many temporary down-and-outers are still sleeping in the open and foraging their own grub. Others are now following the harvests.

F. E. R. A. is hoping for the best but sharp cold weather is going to give them a grave problem.

NOTES

President Roosevelt's offhand campaign invitations are coming back to plague him. . . . In the heat of the fight it was easy to say: "Drop in and see us at the White House." . . . A surprising number of people have taken those gestures of courtesy seriously. . . . Don't look for much more price-fixing activity on the part of NRA now that the bigger codes are in.

... There are the better part of a thousand yet to be finally signed but concentration will be on maximum hours and minimum wages.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

PRICES
Wages and hours being cared for, sooner or later—probably sooner—the government is going to have to try its hand at price fixing very seriously.

At least that's what informed New Yorkers believe. In order to put the Blue Eagle over it is necessary to keep retail prices from soaring to the point where they will offset purchasing power and discourage the consumer. It is also necessary to keep prices high enough so manufacturers will not go broke with additional costs. What with profiteers on one hand and chiselers on the other it is going to be a tough job to strike a satisfactory balance unless the government does its stuff.

New York hears that Secretary Wallace and Administrator Peek are already convinced that process taxes will not be enough. They have drastic powers under the law to fix prices and compel marketing agreements and the betting here is that they will be forced to use them.

INFLATION

Insiders will tell you that inflation talk is likely to be soft pedaled in official quarters for the next month or so.

The speculative markets keep hoping now for new rabbits from the Washington hat but it seems that rabbits are a bit out of style. A fresh speculative boom might stimulate the hoisting of retail prices, which would be no help to the "Buy Now" campaign. The Eagle will get better service than the bouncing dollar for a while.

Another reason for the soft pedaling is that inflation talk would hurt government plans for re-financing. New York is confident that large scale refinancing is on the way.

FORD

Don't get the idea that the Blue Eagle-Henry Ford battle has been called off. Not a bit of it. Both wrestlers are feeling for holds. Neither wants to swing first for fear of being damned by public opinion as the aggressor.

NRA will stick to tactics described recently in this column—encourage the purchase of competitive cars under the Blue Eagle. They still hope that public reaction will make Henry see the light. If it doesn't they'll try something else.

General Johnson and his merry men naturally don't want to get too far ahead of public sentiment and they are not in the martyr-making business. Ears are pinned to the ground for what Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen think about it all.

And who are those gaunt shadows also listening intently? None other than the remnants of the Republican Old Guard. If they can detect the faintest signs of public distaste for NRA methods they'll hop to the issue like a starving cat to a dish of meat.

OIL
You will see bigger and better fireworks in the oil industry before long. A lot of the boys don't like their production quotas and the bitter opposition to price fixing is by no means defunct. Secretary Locke may find a gusher coming in under his chair.

WISING UP

Canvassers who have been sent out in New York to get NRA consumer pledges signed find that their average prospect doesn't have much idea what it's all about. They are being taught to explain the idea in words of one syllable. Not all the ignorance is found in tenement districts either. For instance there was the Park Avenue lady who said: "I don't see much sense to this NRA business."

It doesn't seem to be helping anybody but the unemployed."

LIBEL

Associated Gas & Electric is tired of turning the other cheek. This company has been subjected to a lot of adverse publicity in the last few years. Now it is going to file a $100,000 libel suit against the Atlantic Monthly for an article which appeared in the July issue. The author was N. R. Danielian, a Harvard tutor, who had done some routine work for the Rayburn Committee. The case will come up in Boston in October.

Utility companies in general think they've accepted too many bricks without protest.

NAZIS

When Dr. Paul Schwarz, German Consul in New York, had to resign some five months ago the Nazi foreign office calmed anxious inquiries by saying there would be no general shake-up in the diplomatic and consular service.

But now that Consul Generals Kiep in New York and Simon in Chicago have been removed other changes will follow. The next to leave will probably be Dr. Rudolph Leitner, Counselor of the Washington embassy. Kiep was blamed for the anti-Nazi attitude of the New York press. They thought he should have found some way to stop it.

It is also rumored in informal quarters that Ambassador Hans Luther will be allowed to serve out a year in office but will probably not be among those present after next summer.

ANAHEIM SPEAKER PREDICTS CLASSLESS SYSTEM UNDER SOCIALISTIC GOVERNMENT

Predicting an early breakdown in NRA principles and the establishment and maintenance of a classless system under socialistic government, Miss Oleta O'Conner, graduate of the University of California, declared at a meeting in Anaheim last night, that a policy of liberalism is sufficient because it is based upon the interest of the working classes where the NRA is only another means of aiding the capitalists.

Brought under the auspices of the Socialist party the speaker addressed an enthusiastic audience in the old Adventist church on East Adele street and at the same time heaped scorn upon certain Communistic hecklers present who declared that the Socialist's policy of a peaceful revolution could not be brought about.

"If as much time were spent in educating the people to a peaceful revolution as to a violent revolution then we would indeed be near our goal," she said as she expressed her belief that mass intelligence knows what it wants.

Production For Use She pointed out that the means of production should not be owned by a few people who use them to exploit the great mass of humanity. Under Socialism, she said, the natural resources would be owned for use and not for profit, thus eliminating the class gulf of employer and employee, she said.

Three-fourths of the money saved every year is gotten through inheritance, which accentuates inequitable distribution, and only one-fourth is saved out of salaries and wages, she said in comparing pre-Civil war slavery with the present "wage slavery."

In answer to a question of how the Socialists would take over the tools of production in order to avert violence, Miss O'Conner declared that the government would appropriate them for its own control and then give the owners sufficient compensation.

Contrasting the differences between Socialism and Communism, she pointed out that the former is based upon true democracy, is opposed to any kind of dictatorship, even as in Russia, and advocates a peaceful revolution. Socialists want to keep out of imperialistic wars which are only another repulsive manifestation of capitalism, she asserted.

"Endure No More" "The United States is owned by the plutocrat class," she said, "and it is another case of the flag following the dollar." She emphasized that as long as the capitalists are in power there will be unemployment and war. "People will reach the point where they will endure no more," she asserted.

Showing that the present depression has hit every class in the United States the speaker stated that a recent nationwide survey of schools showed that 51 per cent of the children are undernourished. "There is over production and yet people are permitted to starve," the speaker commented.

"The NRA was passed to stabilize production and not to give opportunity to the working class. The success of this act for labor depends upon the strength of labor. It is a reform measure attempting to give life to a system of capitalism that has already died," she concluded.

NO SHIMMY with GENERAL JUMBOS

The eight hand cross section shows the Jumbo's patented design—built like a bridge—wide at the base (rim) for support. This design braces the car—holds it steady at all speeds—no shimmy or sideway. It permits pressure so low there is not enough air to blow out. Contrast the Jumbo's stable design with the top-heavy construction of the enlarged balloon type tire—known as the "doughnut"—and you will see the reason for the big difference in performance.

Let us demonstrate how Jumbos will make YOUR car safer, ride better and cost less to run.

FEDERAL LOAN FOR CITY HALL URGED BY CLUB

A resolution recommending that the city of Santa Ana borrow $100,000 from the government through funds provided for the public works act and erect a new city hall at the old site at Third and Main streets was adopted by the Santa Ana Kiwanis club at the regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon in Ketter's cafe.

Prior to the adoption of the resolution Chet Dietler, chairman of the public affairs committee, explained the existing condition in regard to the city hall. He pointed out that now is an opportune time to erect the city hall, because the government would donate $30,000 of the $100,000 outright and would loan the city the balance which could be repaid in 30 years. Interest of four and a half per cent would be charged on the balance, he said.

If the building program is adopted by the city, he said, the city hall would cost the city $450 a month. There would be no necessity for a bond issue or present increase in the tax rate to amortize the loan, he said.

Mayor Paul Witmer explained that no immediate raise in tax rates would be necessary because the city has a surplus of $20,000 which could be used in the building program.

The resolution adopted pointed out that erection of the building at this time would relieve the unemployed situation here to some extent, which is the purpose of the public works act.

Mayor Witmer, in response to a question, declared that the 30-year period would be ample to amortize the loan. The resolution adopted was signed by Dr. H. G. Huffman, president, and Fred Crowell, secretary.

NRA MEETINGS TO BE HELD IN 5 COMMUNITIES

Public meetings to further explain the various general phases of the NRA will be held in five Orange county cities next week under the auspices of the Automotive Trades Association of Orange county. It was announced today by Secretary Harry D. Riley.

At a meeting of the board of directors it was urged that the gatherings be held in Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange and Huntington Beach, with outstanding authorities on the NRA invited to make talks. The meetings are to be open to the public and not confined to automotive people. Schools will be used, the locations to be announced later.

Orange county members have taken a prominent part in the drafting of a uniform price and working code for garages and repair shops of the 11 Southern California counties. The essentials of the proposal were agreed upon at a meeting in Los Angeles Sunday, attended by a group of county men, including Cyrus Lerker, George McConnell, Charles Craemer, and Robert Hockaday from Santa Ana; Henry DuBois, Arnold Howard, Harry D. Riley and Earl Johnson, Anaheim; and Harold Clemmons, Fullerton.

The completed code was presented today at a hearing of the state legislative commission in the state building in Los Angeles. If it is accepted, the blanket codes of fair competition will go into effect throughout the Southland. Agreements adopted by crafts in the Orange county association are virtually the same as the new policy for Southern California, Riley declared.

Used parts and wrecking dealers will hold a meeting tonight in the Builders Exchange building in Santa Ana at 8 o'clock. The general repair craft met last night at the Independent Garage in Orange with Frank Sawyer in charge.

MENDICANT FRIAR, TO SPEAK HERE SUNDAY, PLANS MOVE TO FORM "BROTHERS OF THE WAY"

Father Wells Mortimer Partridge, known to thousands throughout the United States as the "Mendicant Friar," was in Santa Ana today after a trip to the Pacific coast from the East which brought him in contact with people in all walks of life and through isolated deserts, mountains and forests, as well as cities.

Father Partridge, who will deliver a sermon in the Church of the Messiah, Episcopal, here at 11 a. m. Sunday, is a priest of the Episcopal church. He is accompanied on his tour by his famous dog, "Spot," who was given the freedom of Los Angeles by Mayor Porter.

He travels and lives in his car since starting on the tour in December, 1931, contacting many "knights of the road" enroute. Believing one of the best works he could accomplish would be to spread the helping wings of the blue eagle over the entire United States, Father Partridge plans the organization of "Brothers of the Way." He plans to contact automobile clubs and motorists, urging drivers to take old clothing and food in their cars when traveling, to give to the worthy old men on the road, "in the name of Christ."

Father Partridge believes great good can be accomplished in this manner. He did not, however, advise anyone to give men on the road rides in cars or to stop at night or to take any unnecessary risks.

The mendicant friar carries with him recommendations from many prominent people, including Mayor James M. Curley of Boston. Educated as an engineer, Father Partridge afterwards entered the church. Since that time he has preached in humble desert missions and camps, including the Monks Army camp in Washington, and in some of the most beautiful cathedrals of the nation. His experiences during his life could afford material for an interesting book. He gave up his regular work in the East on the advice of doctors who declared of his life and he has regained his health by his travels, he reports.

First of a series of four stag parties to be staged by the Orange County Trojan Men's club will be held Tuesday night, September 19, at 7 o'clock, in Ketter's cafe, Santa Ana. It was announced today by J. Wayne Harrison, president.

Speakers for the first meeting include Howard Jones, head coach at the University of Southern California; James Mussatti, rally speaker; Jeff Cravath, fresh coach; Louis Gough, general alumni head, and Ralph "Dutch" Wilcox, university field secretary. It was announced. In addition to the noted speakers, a 30-minute puppet show comic by Walter King of Santa Ana will be staged.

The stag event is the first of four which will be sponsored by the club within the next nine months, according to President Harrison. President Rufus von Kleinsmid will head the list of speakers for the November meeting.

President Harrison urged all members of the organization to turn out for the meeting.

Las Meninas members comprised the guest list for a charming party given Tuesday evening by the Misses Kathleen Holmes and Leonora Walker, who joined in complimenting the Misses Mary Helen Bell, Helen Bower and Bonnie Kiser, all of whom will leave Sunday to take up their college studies. Miss Bell and Miss Bower go to Pomona, and Miss Kiser to Occidental college.

The affair was given in Miss Holmes' home, and distributed for bridge. Guests took pretty wrapped packages which proved to contain handkerchiefs for the bride of honor guests.

Japanese appointments used throughout the evening included clever tally cards made by Miss Holmes, and distributed for bridge games. Prize winners were Miss Bell, who scored high, receiving a Japanese tea set; Miss Betty Whitney, second high, receiving Oriental stationery, and Miss Miriam Samuelson, low, a carved jewelry box.

Two course refreshments served included molded salad, hot biscuits, coffee, toffee ice cream, cake, rosettes, and other home-made delicacies. Miss Holmes' mother, Mrs. E. G. Holmes, assisted the two hostesses in entertaining.

Orange Couple Wedded At Eight O'Clock Ceremony

Banked with palms and ferns and lighted by white tapers, the altar of Santa Ana Evangelical church formed an effective background for the ceremony Tuesday night, September 12, at which Miss Mildred Stutheit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Stutheit of Orange, became the bride of Albert John Brubaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brubaker, Villa Park.

Other appointments for the 8 o'clock ceremony included the tall candelabra from which white candles glowed, and large baskets of pink dahlias, larkspur, white gladioli and baby asters.

Mrs. Ted Wood of Santa Ana was at the organ, playing accompaniments for George Watson, who sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Lohengrin's Wedding March for the entry of the bride party, and Mendelssohn's Bridal Chorus as a recessional.

V. J. Stutheit gave his daughter in marriage, accompanying her to the altar, where the Rev. E. W. Matz, pastor, read the vows for the young couple. The bride was gown in white satin fashioned on princess lines, wearing a veil draped from the cap, where orange blossoms were clustered. She wore crystals, a gift of the bridegroom. Her shower bouquet was of white roses, gardenias and lilies of the valley.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Pannier of Garden Grove, was matron of honor, wearing a floor length rose taffeta frock and carrying a long train. Gowns in similar style were worn by the bridesmaids, the bridegroom's sister, Miss Ruth Brubaker, in yellow taffeta, and Miss Hazel Morrow in blue taffeta. They carried sweet peas and larkspur tied with tulle bows.

Walter Brubaker was best man, and Marvin Stutheit and Charles Pannier served as ushers. Little Miss Barbara Meyer, sweet in a colonial net frock over pink taffeta, was flower girl, and Master Allen Meyer, wearing a black suit, was ring bearer.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Pannier, in Garden Grove, brightened with pink dahlias and white asters, was setting for the reception which followed. Ice cream molds centered with pink bells were served with a three-tiered wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. George Watson sang appropriate duet selections during the evening. Mrs. Stutheit, mother of the bride, was gown in flowered silk, and Mrs. Brubaker, mother of the bridegroom, wore black satin with touches of white lace. Their flowers were corsage bouquets of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker left for a northern honeymoon trip with plans to return in a week's time to make their home on North Batavia street, Orange. Mr. Brubaker has been engaged in ranching since the completion of his studies at Orange Union High school, in 1924. His bride also attended that school.

Many Trousseau Gifts Are Selected for Party Honoree

That most delightful of all bridal courtesies, a trousseau shower, was the way chosen by Mrs. Alfred H. Thorndike, 1522 North Broadway, and her daughters, Miss Julia Thorndike of the home, and Mrs. Albert Tinsner (Elpha Thorndike) of Corona, to express their interest in the recently announced engagement of Miss Helen Randall to Paul August Grand of Hollywood.

Guests bidden to the Thorndike home for an afternoon of bridge, were received by the trio of hostesses and their honor guest, Miss Randall, who was striking in a flaming red gown worn with a spray of gardenias, the gift of Mrs. Thorndike and her daughters. Autumn's glowing flowers were used effectively about the rooms, where small tables were in readiness for their equipment for the bridge tourney.

Miss Helen Spangler, scoring high, and Miss Alice Majors, second high, were rewarded with pieces of graceful pottery. This seemed to be the signal for the shower feature of the party, and as Miss Randall opened one after another of the dainty packages placed before her, she was almost inundated by the froth of laces and satins and all the exquisite articles that a bride loves to add to her trousseau.

For the succeeding tea interval, guests sought the dining room where Mrs. Francis Wight (Helen Randall) and Mrs. Ray Harris presided at a table sparkling with flowers, candles and silver. The menu, served buffet style, included little individual cakes iced with appropriate wedding bells.

Asked to share this enjoyable function with Mrs. Thorndike, Miss Thorndike, Miss Tinsner and their honoree, Miss Randall, were Mrs. Joseph Schuler, Miss Maybel Spicer and Mrs. Francis Nicholson, Los Angeles; Miss Grace Wight, Altadena; Mrs. Edward Tinsner, Corona; the Misses Betty Garraway, Frances Vieira, Violet Boege, Alice Majors, Mary Emil Majors, Jean Peacock, Helen Spangler, Loreta Spangler, Margie Leistner, Dorothy Diehl, Mesdames Francis Wight, Carl Thrasher, Ray Harris, Martin Elliott, Francis Norton, Robert Goetting, Fayette Birtcher, C. George Decker Brings Charming Bride To Southland Home

Santa Ana friends of George W. Decker, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Decker, who watched with interest his career as a football star at University of Southern California following his graduation from Santa Ana Junior college where he was captain of the team, will be equally interested in the announcement of his marriage on August 24 in La Grande, Oregon, to Miss Ann Stange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stange of that city.

The young people have now returned to the Southland and are receiving their friends at 5289 1-2 De Longpre avenue, Los Angeles. Mr. Decker has resumed his duties as manager of the Phelps and Terkel clothing store where he had worked to put himself through college.

The wedding, occurring in the Presbyterian church of the Oregon city, was described as one of the most beautiful of the season. The altar was curtained with ferns and greenery, and chancel rails held masses of mid-summer flowers alternating with candelabra filled with white tapers. Flowers and tulle bows marked the entrance to each pew, defining the bridal path to the altar.

Miss Stange's ivory satin gown was fashioned with a long train, and the sheer tulle veil which was caught with orange blossoms to a tiny lace cap, swept in equally long folds above the shimmering satin. She carried bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Jane Stange was her sister's honor maid, and was gown in pale blue crepe with a little flower-wreathed hat to match. She carried a quaint colonial bouquet of mixed blossoms. There were four bridesmaids, gowning alternately in pink or yellow mousseline de soie, each wearing lace mitts and hats, and carrying floral muffs to harmonize with her gown.

Ford Palmer, captain of the U. S. C. football team, went north for the wedding and to assist Mr. Decker as his best man. Eight ushers, a flower girl and an altar attendant, completed a picturesque bridal party.

Mr. and Mrs. Stange later presided at a formal reception in their beautiful home, presenting their daughter and new son-in-law to several hundred of their friends. The home was a bower of flowers, and refreshments were served in the dining room from a table spread with priceless Italian linen. The elaborate bride's cake had a place of honor amidst the flowers and tulle decorations of the buffet, and the new Mrs. Decker cut the first slice before departing with her husband for a honeymoon at their parents' summer home on Wallowa Lake.

Mr. Decker, who completed his college course in 1922, was an affiliate of Sigma Chi fraternity. His bride attended Mills college and the University of Oregon where she was a member of Delta Gamma sorority.

Arriving late last week from their northern honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Decker were complimented at a dinner party given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Newton in their home in Long Beach.

Mrs. Newton and Mr. Decker are sister and brother, and it was a happy family party arranged to express cordial welcome to the charming northern girl who has come to join the family circle.

Quantities of flowers were used with artistic feeling by Mrs. Newton in gracing her home and to adorn the table where an inviting dinner menu was served.

Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Newton and their little daughter Betty Jo; Mr. and Mrs. George Decker, honor guests; Mrs. Elizabeth Decker; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Taylor and daughters, Nadine and Helen Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stewart, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Decker and daughter, Barbara Jean; Tustin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haas and sons, Charles Decker Haas, San Bernardino and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Day, Santa Barbara.

Late News From Orange And Nearby Towns

SEES WIDE USE OF TELEVISION IN SHORT TIME

ORANGE, Sept. 14.—Electrical demonstrations by George N. Hawley, industrial heating engineer of the Los Angeles branch of the Southern California Edison company, proved entertaining to members of the Lions club and guests at their regular weekly program in the American Legion clubhouse yesterday.

The speaker, introduced by G. H. Sullivan of the Santa Ana Edison plant, centered his discussion upon electric wave phenomena, which consists of radio waves, infra red, visible light, ultra violet rays, X-rays, gamma rays and cosmic rays, and pointed out that all effects produced are the direct offspring of ordinary socket current used in the home.

Among other things Hawley transmitted sounds from a phonograph record over light beams to a photo-electric cell, which in turn sent the sound through a loud speaker. The Edison representative showed how the entire demonstration depended upon the light beams reaching the photo-electric cell by passing his hand through the beams, thereby temporarily breaking the connection and eliminating the music produced from the record.

"Television," the speaker stated in response to a question at the close of the program, "is just around the corner. Many radio experts say that we shall have it by next year. Television is now on display at the World's Fair in Chicago, and although illustrations of it are small, they have been successful."

JUNIOR AND SENIOR GUILD CLASSES IN PLAYS FRIDAY

ORANGE, Sept. 14.—Two plays are to be presented Friday evening by the Junior and Senior classes of the Little Theater guild, when these groups will make their first appearance at the Woman's clubhouse. The entertainment is scheduled for 8 o'clock and Miss Faye Stinson is directing.

The juniors are presenting a Celtic play, a well written adaptation of an Irish folk tale. The character of the wise old Irish mother is taken by Barbara Pease and the part of her son is taken by Marion Disbennett. The mermaid or foam maiden, played by Evelyn Myrall adds a touch of beauty and mystery to the production.

The senior class is presenting a play which depends entirely on the excellence of the characterizations. Two of the members of this class are well known for their work in high school dramatics and operettas, Miss Lola Reeves and Miss Virginia Lee Harper. The third character is taken by Miss Edyth Boone, who will be appearing in her first play Friday evening.

HOLD PROGRAM AS CENTER STARTS FALL ACTIVITIES

OLIVER, Sept. 14.—Members of the Foothill Farm Center gathered at the social hall of St. Paul's church Wednesday evening for their first meeting after the summer recess. A supper was served at 6:30 o'clock by the G.O.T. club under the direction of Mrs. August Heinemann.

The following entertainment was arranged and presented by Miss Holly Lash Visel and her pupils of Santa Ana: "The Redheaded Woman," a monologue written and given by Miss June Arnold; "Maiden Remember," a French folk song, and "My Hero" from the "Chocolate Soldier" by Strauss, soprano solos by Miss Lorraine Pollock, accompanied by Miss Visel; a one-act play, portraying the scandals of political office, presented by the Misses June Arnold, Jeannette Lutes and Jeannette Botman.

The business meeting was called to order by the chairman, R. A. Palmer.

The principal speakers of the evening were Harold Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, and Ralph McFadden, president of the Orange County Farm bureau.

Wahlberg spoke at length on the precautions to be taken against the burning of citrus trees by the Santa Ana winds.

Wahlberg announced that the University Extension service would test orchard heaters for fuel consumption and smoke prevention at the Maybury ranch October 3 at 2 p. m. At Floyd Benson's ranch, near the Katella school, the service will demonstrate equipment for shallow cultivation on October 4.

McFadden spoke on the new Orange County Water district. McFadden also made a stirring plea for continued membership in the farm bureau.

President Palmer announced the following members to serve as nominating committee: Frank Collins, Ray Kutchel, and Emil Roddeck; for the auditing committee, Vincent McPherson and John Eggers.

Interesting reports were given by L. A. Bortz on the orange county board meetings; H. T. Brewer on the citrus department; Mrs. L. A. Bortz on the activities of the home economics department; W. W. Perry of the water committee, and Dian Gardner of the tax committee.

Mr. Gardner stated: "The market value of land today is less than 10 years ago; the assessed valuation has remained about the same, while taxation has tremendously increased. This situation presents a serious and pressing problem. The schools have not made the recommended 25 per cent cut in their operating expenses."

W. W. Perry announced that the election of directors for the seven water districts in Orange county under the new law will be held October 18. R. A. Palmer is the candidate from the local district.

AN APPEAL To the Fair-Mindedness of the Citizens of Orange County and Southern California

We do not believe it the desire of President Roosevelt or the purpose of the NRA to exact a penalty from any industry, which through circumstances beyond its control, cannot yet display the Blue Eagle.

Rumors of criticism have reached our ears for our failure to display a Blue Eagle on our product.

So the public may know our position we reproduce below a telegram received from our President.

Prior to any NRA activity our industry voluntarily arranged shorter hours to give more men employment, and these shorter hours are now a part of our proposed Code.

Throughout the period of depression the Beet Sugar Industry has continued to give employment to many thousands of your fellowmen. It has carried its share of the burden in competition with cheap foreign labor on a fair, equitable American basis. It will continue to do so under the widespread wings of the Blue Eagle just as soon as humanly possible.

Do not be mislead! No sugar at present time displaying the Blue Eagle is manufactured from products of the soil of your own Continental United States, as far as we know.

Continue to support California's great Beet Sugar Industry during this crisis. Support to your local industry benefits you as well as it.

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The trip to Pet Land was real short. "Gee, lads, this is a lot of sport," said Goldy. "I've had lots of pets I never will forget. "Why, once I owned a little cat that said, 'meow-er,' just like that. The way it cuddled in my lap made it a dandy pet." "Why, say, I had a dog, one time, and every time I put a dime right in its mouth," said Duncy. "It would run down to the store. "I would buy some candy. Yes, dree! And bring a bagful back to me." "Oh, my, but you're a dreamer," Scouty cried. "You make me roar."

Right near the dog house was a cat and Windy shouted, "Look at that! That cat lives in a basket that's supposed to be for clothes."

"However, that is nothing new, 'cause that's what most all house cats do. Such baskets make a comfy place to snooze in, goodness knows." While all the rest were looking round we Duncy shouted, "I have found a dandy cat canary. It's been singing merrily. "To prove to you that it's not dumb, I'll make it hop out on my thumb. That's what it does, the minute that I say, 'come out for me!'" (Copyright, 1933, NEA Service, Inc.) (The Tinies see some clever tricks in the next story.)

KIWANIS CLUB OF BUENA PARK IS GIVEN BOOK

BUENA PARK, Sept. 14.—Book of Friendship night was observed at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club in the Woman's clubhouse Tuesday night. The book of friendship was started by members of the Oakland Kiwanis club. Anaheim club presented the book to the Buena Park club, with 31 members of that city present. The history of the book was given by Homer Nelson, president of the Anaheim Kiwanis club.

The Rev. Ray Harker, pastor of the Anaheim Methodist church, spoke on "Friendship, World Wide," which he coupled with the Kiwanis slogan, "We Build." The lack of friendship and tolerance is the cause of conditions, as we know them today, he stated. In concluding his talk he stressed the need of the world to get back to the teachings of Christ.

Buena Park Kiwanians will present the book to Fullerton club in the near future.

An open forum is to be conducted by members of the local club and Ed Marxen is in charge for the Buena Park club. This is to be in the form of a contest, and each member is to give a five-minute talk on the subject, "Relation of Kiwanis to National Policies." The object will be to bring out the ideas of the members, other than professional speakers. Sixty per cent will be given for the make-up of the talk and 40 per cent for delivery. Tryouts for local contestants will be held October 10. Winners of this group will contest with other clubs and these winners will go to the division contest, the date of which will be announced later.

A 6:30 o'clock dinner was served to the Kiwanians and their guests. Mrs. James Dunbar was in charge and was assisted by Mrs. Henry Warren.

DITCH TILING DISCUSSED AT TALBERT MEET

TALBERT, Sept. 14.—Placing of tiling in the open ditches of the Talbert Drainage district to cut expenses to property owners and to reduce highway accidents is being considered by ranchers today, following a meeting of the district at the Fountain Valley school this week.

A committee consisting of Louis Bushard, Earl Gardner and Walter Giesler was appointed to secure details on the project, the cost of which is estimated at $85,000. There is a possibility of the district securing a federal loan, it was said.

The present cost of maintenance of the ditches runs from $400 to $5000 yearly, but with the ditches tiled the maintenance expense would be eliminated, it was declared. The safety feature of the tiling was stressed, speakers pointing out that many serious accidents have resulted from cars going into the deep ditches along the highway.

The drainage district was formed following a flood period. Speakers at this week's meeting expressed the opinion that the tiling would take care of possible floods.

Rogers Says NRA Has To Be Success

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 14.—Between gulps of food and interruptions by boys and girls who gained his willing signature to scraps of paper or pages of autograph albums, Will Rogers declared his belief here yesterday that the NRA program will be a success.

"It just has to be," the famous comedian emphasized. Rogers was interviewed as he sat at the lunch counter in the White House cafe with Mrs. Rogers and where they had stopped off for a quick lunch on their way to Oceanside. Outside the door was an ever-increasing group of boys and girls and the more daring ones didn't pay any attention to the interviewer as they begged for signatures.

Rogers asked with a grin why he couldn't see any artists in an art colony. Then he wanted to know how many of the movie people had homes in Laguna Beach. "Chuck" Riesner, the director, "Slim" Summerville, M. Gombell, George O'Hara, Polly Moran, Robert Armstrong, William Haines, Frederic March, Hallem Cooley and Malcolm St. Clair, mentioned off hand, were all his friends he said. Harry Green came next.

Meeting an old friend, Marion Munson Forrest, with whom he had played in vaudeville 25 years ago, the comedian was very cordial.

No More Piles

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when McCoy Drug Store invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case?

He then handed her the photostatic copy of a blueprint of the ground floor of the Selim house, with a pencilled ring drawn around the bedroom. Karen faintly identified it, as well as the pencilled furniture, and was immediately dismissed—to the disappointment of the packed rows of spectators and reporters.

Dr. Price himself took the stand next and described, in technical terms, the wound which had caused death and the caliber of the bullet he had extracted from the dead woman's heart.

"I find, also, from the autopsy," he concluded, "that the bullet traveled a downward, slanting path. I should add, moreover, that I have made exact mathematical calculations, using the position of the body and of the wound as a basis, and found that a line drawn from the wound, and extended, at the correct slant, ends at a point 51.3 inches high, upon the right-hand side of the frame of the window nearest the porch door." And he obligingly passed the marked blueprint among the jury. When it was in his own hands again, he added: "It is impossible to state the exact distance the bullet traveled, more nearly than to say the shot was fired along the line I have indicated, at a distance of not more than 15 feet and not less than 10."

Captain Strawn rose and was permitted to question the witness: "Dr. Price, that blueprint shows that the bedroom is 15 feet in width, don't it?"

"That is correct."

"Have you also measured the height of that window sill from the floor?"

"I have," the coroner answered. "The height from floor to sill is 25 inches."

"Now doctor, from your calculations, would it be possible for a man crouching in the open window to fire a shot along the path you have calculated?"

"It would," Dr. Price answered. "But as I have pointed out it is impossible for me to say at exactly what distance from the body the shot was fired."

But Strawn, of course, was amply satisfied. And so were Dundee and the district attorney, for it was their purpose admirably for the public to be convinced at this time that an intruding gunman had murdered Nita Selim.

Captain Strawn, sworn in, told briefly of his being called to the scene of the crime, of the activities of Carraway, the fingerprint expert, and of the exhaustive search of his squad of detectives.

Did you find any person concealed upon the premises, that is, within the house itself, or in the garage or on the grounds?" Dr. Price asked.

"No, sir."

"Did you or your men discover the weapon with which the deceased was killed?"

"No, sir."

"Did you question all persons in the house at the time of the crime,

Murder at Bridge

BEGIN HERE TODAY Special Investigator Dundee, investigating the murder at bridge of Juanita Selim, tells District Attorney Sanderson his findings: Possible suspects include Lydia Carr, the maid; Dexter Sprague, John C. Drake, Judge Marshall, Nita's landlord, whom she said he rent, and owner of the gun and silencer with which she was shot; Polly Beale and Clive Hammond, who were in the salaried together; Flora Miles, Janet Raymond and the party Hammond.

Sprague came early to the party, went upstairs to the room he used, and shaved. Lydia followed him, told him he would have to clear out, and stayed behind to clean up after him. Sprague went down, out the back, and around the house.

Flora Miles said she was in Nita's closet reading a note which she thinks is from her husband, Tracey, but which is really from Sprague. Dundee and the district attorney decide to withhold this evidence at the inquest, pretending to accept the theory that New York gunman did the job. Dundee hopes to find out who paid Nita $10,000 since her arrival in Hamilton. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

In the evening program which will be broadcast at 8:30 p.m. Friday over an NBC network including KFSD, Black will present the four movements of the Beethoven Sonata for piano, opus 7, which he has scored for strings.

A. Palmer, Orange County agent for the Federal Land Bank Loan and Ralph McFadden, president of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Expressing his belief in the former agency, Mr. Palmer pointed out that it would be a good thing for the county and that it enables the grower to secure loans on easy terms. He explained that for the first five years it is only necessary to pay interest on the loan and that the principal need not be paid for 15 years.

Mr. McFadden described the history and formation of the Orange County Water District and touched upon the election of a board of directors that will take place on October 18.

He said that one vote will be given for every $100 assessed valuation, that the tax power is limited to five cents per $100 for the first five years and two cents per $100 thereafter. A two-thirds vote will be necessary to carry any project. The local Farm Center is a part of three districts.

Candidates for the three districts embracing Anaheim are W. C. Mauerhan, William Schumacher and William Walton.

B. L. Chandler, local director, gave a report on the monthly board meeting stating that it was decided by a large majority to keep the dues at $10 a year.

Two announcements were made by Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, the first being on the orchard demonstration of heating efficiency that will be conducted at the Maybury ranch in Santa Ana on October 3 at 2:30 o'clock and the second on the shallow cultivation demonstration that will be held the following day.

The meeting was opened with a pot luck supper held in the school cafeteria. The program enjoyed at that time included two tenor solos by Lyman D. Harpster, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Harpster and a group of readings given by Miss Marjorie Carlisle.

Those present besides the hostesses, Miss Schulte, were Miss Eloise Owens, Miss Madeline Moore, Miss Kathryn Adams, Miss Helen Grafton, Miss Naomi Nemo, Miss Imogene Sanders, Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. Donald Winans.

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—Miss Mildred Mauerhan was elected Tuesday night when the board of trustees held a regular business session in the superintendent's office.

According to M. A. Gauer, superintendent, she will teach the fifth grade at Broadway. She already has taught here three years, having been released last year because of the tenure law.

Mr. Gauer reported that all school buildings are in excellent condition following summer repairs. The two bungalows at Citrus and the new school building at Citrus will be reopened in the near future.

With the principals meeting today and the general faculty meeting at 10 a.m. on Friday final plans will be completed for the opening of schools on Monday morning.

Fremont school will begin at 8:30 o'clock and the rest of the schools at 9 o'clock. The regular daily schedule of classes will be observed.

FORD AND THE NRA

It is to be hoped that Henry Ford will sign the NRA code. We do not understand why Mr. Ford has not done so. We know his objections to the code, but it is one of those cases where a man has the great privilege of doing the thing that is for the common good, in spite of the fact that he may not agree with some of the details of it.

One of the objections, which was urged by Mr. Ford, was that it would open the books of the Ford company to representatives of the automobile NRA code, which practically would open the books of his company to his competitors. But, by the same token, he could look into the books of his competitors.

He would not lose anything which the other man would not lose, each of them gaining or losing alike. Of course, if either one of them is buying in the market at an unconscionably low price, this also would be known. We understand the profits of neither could be given to the public. But, in any case, they would all be on the same basis.

It is very probable that if Mr. Ford would write to General Johnson or the President, stating his willingness to sign up on a code, with that one part eliminated, the matter might be worked out. Or it could be adjusted so that only the government officials could examine the books. The truth is that the government officials now examine the books for purposes of the income tax, which means that the representatives of the government have access to all the figures of any corporation.

But we can well imagine that there could be no single thing that the great manufacturer could do that would be more helpful to the general industrial and economic recovery than to make declaration that while he may not be in accord with certain phases of the government's program, and that he frankly opposes some of them, but that in the interest of economy, and to aid in every way possible to bring success to the program of the President, he proposes to lay aside his personal opinion and judgments, and join in on the great national plan for the good of all. Certainly this would not wreck Mr. Ford.

It would not do him any more injury than it would do others, and if a failure should meet it, it will be known in a few months. Mr. Ford would then be in the attitude of having gone with the national leaders, working in harness for recovery, and ready to join in the next program, which might be nearer Mr. Ford's idea than the present one. There is nothing else to do.

Mr. Ford's ideas of the way to complete recovery may be infinitely better than the President's. But he does not happen to be in the position where his ideas are the ones that are promulgated. President Roosevelt is. We rather fear that Mr. Ford is anxious to protect his own opinion. He can afford to lose rather than concede.

But he should remember that there are thousands of his agents and their salesmen and their mechanics, who are going to be injured irreparably, unless he joins in with the general plan. We can all be sorry for this. We have no doubt but if a vote were taken, you would find all but unanimous support by Mr. Ford's agents, for him to sign the code. Most of them, individually, have signed. The Ford representative here in the city has signed up. All of the work in their agencies is carried on in harmony with it. Mr. Ford owes it to these loyal agents and men, to remove every difficulty that he can possibly remove from their pathway toward success, and should not let the pride of opinion make their pathway rough and rugged, if not utterly impossible to travel.

NEW SALES TAX PLAN ADOPTED

The sales tax has been causing no end of trouble to the merchants and the consumers. It is likely to, as long as it continues as a part of our tax system. But there are some aggravating things about it that might be removed.

The plan, so far, has been against charging the sales tax on any purchase less in amount than 15 cents. This means that the tax above the amount of 15 cents must be higher than the 2 1/2 per cent as a total, or the merchant will have to pay part of the sales tax. There are some people who have taken advantage of this plan of limiting the amount on which the tax will be levied, and have actually made purchases in 10 and 12 and 13 cent lots, to save the tax, whereas normally they would buy them in 50 or 75 cent or $1.00 lots.

This, strange to say, has not been confined to the poor, who are unable to gather more than the small number of pennies together, but it has been practised by those of larger income, and even those who are able to save from their income, in order to prevent themselves from paying this slight amount of tax upon their purchase.

This is going to be changed, declares the state board of equalization, after meeting a group of merchants representing the retail merchants. They plan to mint "tokens" in amount of one-eighth of one cent, that is, eight "tokens" for a cent. These will be furnished to the merchants by the banks. The merchant, then, on a small item of 10 cents, can charge 11 cents, and the purchaser, will receive, besides his purchase, six "tokens," two having been kept for the tax on the 10 cents.

These "tokens," of course, will be acceptable for the amount of tax upon any purchase which the customer makes. For practical purposes, they will be money, and yet to avoid the provision in the Constitution that grants to Congress the sole right to coin money and regulate the value thereof, these will not be considered money, and will not have the backing of the state or any governmental unit, and will practically enable the merchant to collect his tax, even from the customer who is making small purchases.

We do not know just what would happen in case a customer refused to accept the "tokens," and, at the same time, refused to pay one cent tax for a 10 cent purchase. But we suppose that the merchant could refuse to sell. The same thing could happen now, in case a customer refused to pay the one-cent tax for a 15-cent purchase, because, of course, this is more than the amount the merchant has to pay to the government upon that sale.

Fractional currency, in the form of these "tokens," may become quite popular, for of course a merchant might accept them in payment, if he were short of "tokens." If they would only do the same thing in larger amounts, we might have an "inflation of the currency" in California.

BUY LOCAL PRODUCTS

While The Register is strongly for the NRA, we believe, at the same time, that we should consider those who are endeavoring to work out their program in the same light as those who have already worked it out, and continue so to do, unless there is a refusal to sign up on the code.

We call attention to a case in point with the Holly Sugar Company of our own community. It employs many people; it purchases thousands of tons of beets; its prosperity is ours, and the organization is trying to work out a code now. But they have a more difficult time than most of our groups. They must work it out really in two departments. One is through the NRA, or the Department of Commerce, and one through the Department of Agriculture.

It is a slower process, but they are working toward it, and they are in sympathy with the movement. All of the beet sugar refineries are in the same position. In fact, practically all of the sugar that is grown and manufactured in this country is in the same situation as our own local factory is. It cannot yet use the NRA, just as none of us could use it until our problems had been threshed out.

In consequence of this, there should be the same loyalty to our company here, and to its product, as to any product or group until their negotiations are finished. We are certain that when they are finished, and an agreement has been reached, that they will be able to fly the same banner as others.

In the meantime, it is easy to awaken prejudice and hostility to the injury of our community, both to the workers and the farmers, as well as the company itself. In the midst of negotiations, let us assume that all will come right in the end, and buy our local product, as far as we are able to do so. It will help every interest in Orange county, and will do no injury to others.

Shakespeare And Soap

Modern developments sometimes bring most surprising things into juxtaposition. The connection between soap and Shakespeare, for example, does not immediately leap to the eye. Their names share a couple of letters; but two letters do not necessarily imply a close correspondence.

Yet the influence of soap on Shakespeare may turn out to be quite considerable, for it has just been announced that one of the fellowships established under a bequest of the first Lord Leverhulme, the celebrated soap manufacturer, has been awarded to Prof. J. Dover Wilson of London University for the purpose of research into the text of Shakespeare. Soap, will therefore, indirectly help in the cleaning up of dark places in Shakespeare's writings. And to what better purpose, indeed, could soap be used?

Some scholars are convinced that it is not really known who wrote Shakespeare; while it is almost certain that it is not entirely known what Shakespeare wrote. At any rate, if what Shakespeare wrote is what is printed in the editions of his plays, in many cases no one knows what he meant. Malvolio's remark, for example, concerning the lady of the Strachy who married the yeoman of the wardrobe has puzzled many a student of "Twelfth Night." There are many passages in the comedies, histories and tragedies that will afford Professor Wilson a wide field for activity.

Similar enterprises to Professor Wilson's have in the past been attended by happy results. Few lines in Shakespeare are more widely familiar than those in "Macbeth" referring to the "temple-haunting martlet." Yet until research established the true reading in 1709 it had been supposed that Shakespeare wrote the "temple-haunting barlet," which quite spoiled the poetry of the passage. Similarly, the line "Or dedicate his beauty to the sun" in "Romeo and Juliet" had "same" for the final word until the scholar Theobald amended it to its present form. Since such jewels have rewarded former researchers, who knows what treasure may yet be revealed?

Sucking Up Treasure

Those clever Italian deep sea divers are still taking gold out of the wreck of the Egypt where she lies 400 feet down in the Atlantic off the coast of France. But their takings now are only in the hundreds of thousands and not in the millions as they were at first. Still these remaining pickings are not bad. The salvage ship Artiglio came into port the other day with $170,000 worth of gold and silver.

The problem of picking up the loose gold sovereigns in the Egypt's treasure room has been solved by a novel contraption that has attracted great attention from engineers. It is a simple device, just a vacuum cleaner, evolved by the chief diver. It is a steel cylinder, four feet in diameter, eleven feet long. In the lower end is a circular glass plate ten inches in diameter. The air is exhausted from the cylinder. The device is then lowered from the Artiglio into the Egypt's treasure room and worked into place under direction of the diver. Then a detonator, exploded electrically from the Artiglio, breaks the glass. The powerful inrush of water, at 180 pounds pressure at that depth, washes into the cylinder any objects within reach. At the first trial the cylinder brought up more than six thousand sovereigns, several small bars of gold and a bar of silver.

It is estimated that there still remain in the Egypt's treasure room about a ton of gold in bars, 50,000 loose gold sovereigns and 270 bars of silver. The Italians expect to get it all. If they do they will have recovered all told $5,000,000 worth of gold and forty tons of silver in the greatest treasure hunt in history.

What to Do With the Extra Hours of Leisure?

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

PLUMB RECKLESS

We eat a lot more than we need to;
The Chinaman lives upon rice,
And a handful a day,
So the scientists say,
For his needs will far more than suffice
Were I fed on a well balanced diet
I might live till a hundred and two,
But I hardly would care
To exist on a fare
That I hated like poison, would you?

We are prone to waste money on pleasure,
Yet there's nothing the Eskimo knows
Of high-powered cars
Or half-dollar cigars,
Gin fizzes and cinema shows,
But the climate the Eskimo lives in,
And the chances he often must run,
And his one dinner dish
Which is nothing but fish
Wouldn't bring me a great deal of fun.

If I only knew how to be thrifty
And to do as I liked all the while,
And still take in a fight
Now and then in a night
I could always be clad in a smile.
But as far as I'm morally certain
I shall only live once on this sphere.
So, although I don't lay
Any fortune away
I shall live while I live while I'm here.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE NRA AND THE CONSUMER

The NRA drive to recruit all American consumers under the sign of the Blue Eagle is well under way as I write.
Nothing must be permitted to stand in the way of the successful massing of consumer-opinion in support of the businesses that are backing the national recovery program. The blatancy and obligingness that so often accompany boycotting crusades are unnecessary and indefensible in the prosecution of this campaign. But the retention of manners must not mean anything less than a militant purpose to pledge the purchasing power of the nation to businesses that play the game.

The power of the consumer must be used fully. The problem of the consumer must be met wisely.
These are the two considerations that center in the relation of the consumer to the NRA drive.
The consumer holds the key. The consumer must not be left to hold the bag.
Two processes are being fostered by the national recovery program. They are:
(1) An increase in purchasing power.
(2) An increase in prices.
The consumer is morally obligated to hasten the increase in purchasing power by giving his trade to the businesses that raise wages, shorten hours and widen employment. The government is morally obligated to see to it that a rise in prices shall not race so far ahead of an increase in purchasing power as to leave the consumer worse off than before.

The government is morally obligated to prevent any general slump in the quality of consumer goods produced and sold by industries now relieved of much of the intense competition that formerly was a spur to quality maintenance. The government is morally obligated to present profiteering to which two types of producers might be tempted. These types are:

(1) Producers who enjoy a semi-monopolistic position at the moment.
(2) Producers who, for reasons that may or may not be socially sound, have lower production costs than prevail generally.
Mr. Roosevelt has announced a partnership between government and the producer. The Blue Eagle in the windows of American homes heralds a partnership between government and the consumer.
National recovery is profoundly dependent upon this partnership between government and the consumer to play the game with determination and fairness.

Our Children

By Angela Patri

SOMETIMES — MAYBE

After we have said all we can say about children and their ways we must add, Sometimes, Maybe. One can never be certain that the well tried rules will prove good for the particular child one has in hand. Maybe they will work. Sometimes they do. Perhaps they will serve for this child. One cannot be sure. Life is dramatic and delicate in the personal touch. Usually when a child turns his head away from his food we remove the food and say cheerfully, "All right. You are excused. Maybe you will be hungrier at tea time." Usually the child is hungrier at tea time, or at the next meal, and eats without trouble. Occasionally there is a child who will not. That occasional child needs the help of competent child experts, the sooner the better.
When a child takes something that belongs to somebody else for the simple reason that he wants it we usually have him give it back and inform him that such behavior is wrong. He would not like to have somebody take his things. Usually the child will agree and soon understand time and mine. But now and then we find a child in whom this trait has developed and strengthened with the years. All we have done seems unavailing. For that child we make an investigation in the hope of discovering the cause of his fault. Stealing is a symptom, not a cause. Again the specialist is indicated. The rule has not worked. Maybe the expert can find the reason for the exception.
Most children like animals. The care and ownership of a dog usually gives a child courage in meeting other dogs. It usually teaches him gentleness and kindness to all animals. But not always. Now and then one meets a child who hurts his dog and who seemingly cannot be trained to care for him with love and appreciation. That child must not own a dog. The exception must be made for him.
Usually a child looks forward to his first day in school with a great deal of pleasure. The first days pass happily and he enjoys the whole scheme. But there is one child who refuses to stay in school no matter what efforts the mother and teacher make. He howls and fights to go home. For him there must be a revision of the plan. He must stay in school and cry his objection out. He should have been weaned from home and mother two years before but because he differed from the usual child in some way this was not done. Now it has to be done. Maybe if he is held in school regardless of his grief he will soon settle down. Most of them do within the first hour. The odd one may escape us by some means or other and the child expert has to be called in for him. The usual thing has not worked.

When such a situation faces you, when your child does not conform to the usual in essentials like diet, sleep, eating habits, manners, school, don't be frightened into losing your head and making a mistake. Take it calmly. This is his difference and must be met outside the regulations. Most of the time that can be done for the great group of children are normal and ordinary enough in the long run. But we have to admit that now and then all we can say is maybe, and sometimes.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
